

Claim Listing

Claims 1 to 54 (canceled).

55. (new) A method for regulating gastrointestinal motility in a patient being administered a proton pump inhibitor compound, comprising the simultaneous, concurrent, or sequential administration of an effective amount of tegaserod or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt, racemate, or enantiomer thereof and a proton pump inhibitor compound.
56. (new) The method of claim 55, wherein said proton pump inhibitor compound is omeprazole or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt, racemate, or enantiomer thereof.
57. (new) The method of claim 56, wherein said tegaserod or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt, racemate, or enantiomer thereof and said omeprazole or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt, racemate, or enantiomer thereof are administered simultaneously.
58. (new) The method of claim 57, wherein said tegaserod or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt, racemate, or enantiomer thereof and said omeprazole or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt, racemate, or enantiomer thereof are administered in a fixed combination.
59. (new) The method of claim 58, wherein said fixed combination is administered once or twice daily in an oral dosage form.
60. (new) The method of claim 58, wherein said fixed combination is administered in a fast-melt dosage form.